

Artificial Intelligence (AI) refers to the simulation of human intelligence in machines. It includes learning, reasoning, problem-solving, perception, and language understanding.